Pastoral Thoughts

4th Sunday of Ordinary Time

Today we hear the conclusion of last weeks Gospel, where Jesus announced the fulfillment of the scripture in Him.

At first the people are pleased at the thought of having the Messiah originating from their homeland and envision the graces that will come with it.

But Christ did not come for only one nation, rather He came for the entire world and that revelation does not go well with His childhood friends and neighbors.

Far too often in life we too get upset when we are not the recipients of graces that are extended to others. But we should learn to find joy in the joy of others and understand that our Lord knows what He is doing, and we are too short sighted in trying to understand the big plan and that we may find our graces tomorrow.

We are asked to love our neighbors as ourselves, so in the future let us find joy in others good fortune and let them know you are happy for them and continue to live the life you are called to and you will receive more graces than you could imagine.

Blessings to all,

Dcn Tyrone

Regardless of where you are from, your occupation, your family, your marital status, your personal history, your age, your background, your race, your ethnicity, your political affiliation, your religion, your gender, or your gender identification, we are happy you are here with us today to worship! We invite you to learn more about our parish and its activities by contacting our office, website or simply by mingling with our parishioners after mass.
